Open continuously since 1924, the original Echo Inn, a roadside stand owned by Echo Mumpower, served spirits to the local loggers. Sometime later, a building was erected over the original train trestle. The place changed hands twice before "Mac", who owned it for 29 years, expanded the menu to include pre-made cold sandwiches. The next owner, Shelly's father, Sam, added canned chili, hot dogs and burgers to the menu - not exactly housemade fare! In 1986, Shelly took over the business from her father and brought true homestyle cooking to Carver.
